

Welcome to

We are often asked why we named our restaurant, The Upper Deck. A ship's upper deck is the topmost deck and provides the hull with strength. The Moravian Church owned four sailing ships that transported the congregation of settlers to America. On fair weather days during the voyage, the passengers would gather together on the ship's upper deck to enjoy fresh air, sunshine, worship and fellowship.

One such ship's journey was that of the Irene. On May 12th, 1749, the ship docked in New York Harbor. It was on this same day that the King of England signed the unprecedented act of "encouraging people known as the Unitas Fratrum, United Brethren, to settle in his Majesty's Colony of America." This act provided the Brethren of the Moravian Church with religious freedom that inspired a new way of life filled with hope, community, and mission in the New World.

The inexorable mark in history that they began making 300 years ago in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania continues to inspire the future of Bethlehem today. So to honor the spirit of these pioneers and their traditions, we have named our restaurant The Upper Deck – where, just like the Irene, friends gather to enjoy good food and fellowship that strengthens the fabric of our community.

"In essentials unity, in non-essentials liberty, and in all things love."
